

Daily News

Date 29.5.1951 London's Best News

By: Lucy

Headline

Volcano specialist.

THE KILLING KUNLUN VOLCANO

The Kunlun Volcanos elevation is 5808. It is in China and in a group of about 70 volcanos. It erupted yesterday - 27 May 1951. Days of hissing made China know it was going to erupt. The volcano erupted because the pressure had built up inside the volcano.

Towns have been destroyed and fields of animals are dead. Peoples flights have been delayed and that left angry people stranded at the airport.

House are destroyed, hotels crashed to the floors. A man called James Sharp lost his wife and he stated, "We just moved into a new houses... Again!" Did you know, that it killed 655 people and went all the way through a village.

People are now homeless and have nowhere to go! The kunlun volcano erupted and a loud bang went through the air and ejected large blocks of stone, crashing into the village.

Science expert, Thomas Apple was quoted as saying "Sadly, millions of people have no crops because of an ash cloud rushing out of the volcano!" People believe that the volcano might erupt again but in the meantime locals are advised to stay safe by not going by volcanos. ©winkl.co.uk
Thank you.