

Sulwe - Lupita Nyong'o has written a powerful, moving picture book about self-esteem, and learning that true beauty comes from within.

Ages 4-8.

The Proudest Blue - A powerful, vibrantly illustrated story about the first day of school--and two sisters on one's first day of hijab--by Olympic medallist and social justice activist Ibtihaj Muhammad..

Ages 4-8.

Something Happened in Our Town follows two families — one white, one Black — as they discuss a police shooting of a Black man in their community. The story aims to answer children's questions about such traumatic events,.

Ages 4-8.

This book is perfect for our very youngest readers. It's Okay to Be Different cleverly delivers the important messages of acceptance, understanding and confidence in an accessible, child-friendly format featuring Todd Parr's trademark bold, bright colours and silly scenes.

The skin I'm in is just a covering. It cannot tell my story. The skin I'm in is just a covering. If you want to know who I am, you have got to come inside and open your heart way wide.

Ages 5-11

George says the cardboard house is his and no one else can play in it. It isn't for girls, small people, twins, people with glasses, or people who like tunnels. One by one each child is refused access until tables are turned and George finds how it feels to be on the receiving end.

Ages 3-7

A clear, straightforward approach on how to introduce a complex and heavy topic to your child . Written to make a difficult conversation more digestible for little minds, your child as young as 6 can begin to understand what racism is, how it makes others feel, and why it happens.