Linking words are used to give more than one piece of information in a sentence :

et = and
mais = but
parce que = because

e.g. J'aime jouer au foot parce que c'est passionnant, mais je déteste faire du vélo parce que c'est fatigant.

We use the verbs jouer (to play) for some sports and faire (to do) for others. Can you think why?
