

World Book Day 2021

@ Wimbledon Chase Primary School

This year, World Book Day is on Thursday 4th March.

On 4th March, we will be remote learning so World Book Day will look a little different this year.

It is so important that we still celebrate reading and all the wonderful books you have been enjoying this year!

We have already started to look for unusual spots to read in and set some 'Reading Star' challenges for over half term...

But this presentation is to introduce you to an activity we want you to have a go at in preparation for World Book Day itself...

What we want you to do:

- Choose your favourite book
- Select a page or short chapter to read aloud
- Younger years may want to give a short review instead: “My favourite book is ___ because ___”
- Create a disguise
- Record a short video clip of yourself reading in your disguise (no more than 30 seconds)
- Post it on Google Classroom
- Keep your disguise a secret!

- Be ready to guess the other videos on World Book Day

Your disguise:

This does not have to be book themed (although it could be!)
The point is to hide your identity from the rest of the class who will watch your clip.

You could use:

You could also disguise your voice using an accent or technology.

How to post your clip

- Find 'The Masked Reader' in your Google Classroom
- Attach the file of the video to your assignment
- Click 'Hand in'

- Only your teacher will see who the clip has been posted by

- You can post your video anytime between this Friday and Monday 1st March

On World Book Day...

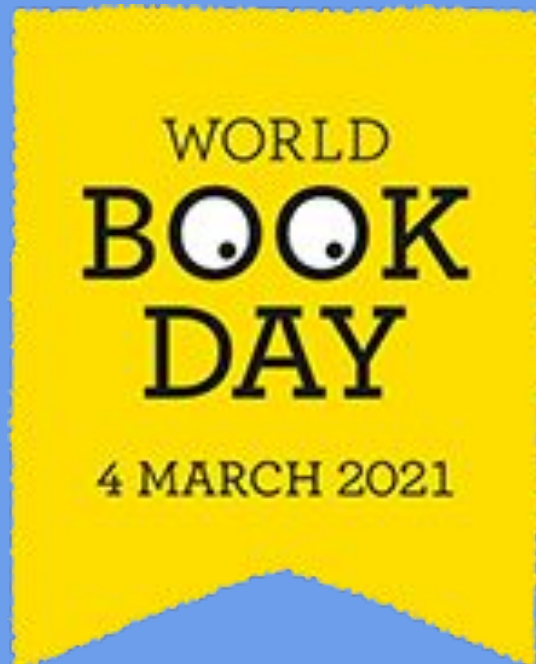

- During your live lesson, you will watch everyone's videos
- You will try to guess who each video is of
- The identity of each 'Masked Reader' will be revealed!

- This will be a great opportunity to pick up book recommendations from your friends!

- Look out for a teacher's edition of 'The Masked Reader' during the week of World Book Day too!

- Book tokens
- Online masterclasses
- Individual year group focus
- Reading for pleasure!

We hope you will all get involved and make World Book Day a really enjoyable date on our school calendar!
